"The first plausible motive...for the killing of John F. Kennedy..." —Playboy

Robert D. Morrow was a contract employee of the CIA in the late 50s and early 60s. This story of his work for that agency reveals for the first time the motive for Kennedy's assassination and the identity of the elements responsible for it. "His minute-by-minute description of the Dallas crime, his naming of names, his explicit behind-the-scenes disclosures, his story of Jack Ruby's key role in the assassination—these answer many questions for the first time, and set the stage for a real in-depth investigation." —Publishers Weekly
